LOW MAINTENANCE COSTS:

The BOOM Clovermist is constructed out of precast concrete so there is little chance of damage or decay. The interior walls are a smooth, stained and sealed white epoxy surface that can be easily hosed out, thoroughly cleaned, and are vandal resistant. Doors, door frames, and window frames are factory powder coated in teakwood brown. The standard exterior walls have an exposed aggregate finish for a pleasing look that goes with most landscapes. Several other exterior finishes are available. The BOOM Clovermist will withstand the most extreme conditions that Mother Nature can throw at it and come out looking like new for years to come.

SWEET SMELLING TECHNOLOGY - "NEW AND IMPROVED"

The US Forest Service developed the "Sweet Smelling Technology" which is a unique design for controlling odors in vault toilets. BOOM Concrete has enhanced these design elements in order to greatly improve the concepts of "Sweet Smelling Technology" which has made the BOOM Clovermist completely odor free. There is a noticeable difference between the BOOM Clovermist and other vault toilets on the market. The key to "Sweet Smelling Technology" is the one directional movement of fresh air into the toilet, through the toilet riser into the storage vault. This fresh air then mixes with the toilet odors and exits the toilet through the vent pipe. This system uses Mother Nature's natural powers of the sun and the wind to keep the positive airflow and odor moving in the right direction. And this is where the BOOM Clovermist has teamed up with Mother Nature by designing a solar heat chamber into the dark colored concrete roof of the BOOM Clovermist. The sun's rays heat up the concrete that surrounds the heat chamber causing the warm air to rise out the vent. This enhanced positive airflow through the toilet eliminates all obnoxious odors in the interior of the toilet that were once associated with the previous style outhouse.
